Introduction

Your experience is not wasted

The average person changes careers 5-7 times. A pivot is not starting over — it is redirecting momentum. Your years of experience contain transferable skills, domain knowledge, and professional judgment that newcomers don't have. This workbook helps you identify what transfers, fill the gaps efficiently, and tell a story that makes hiring managers see your 'unrelated' background as an advantage.
The pivot formula: Transferable skills (what you bring) + Targeted learning (what you add) + Reframed narrative (how you tell it) = successful pivot.
WHY IT WORKS: The #1 pivot mistake: apologizing for your background. The #1 pivot advantage: a perspective nobody else in the new field has.
